

The Stitch

September 2025

It feels like the season has shifted overnight – the air is crisp, the leaves are starting to turn, and my sewing machine has been humming nonstop as I prepare for the cozy months ahead.

Fall always inspires me to create pieces that bring warmth and joy into everyday life, whether that's a seasonal gift, a handmade doll, or something fun for your pets.

I've been busy stitching, stocking, and dreaming up new items to share, and I'm so excited to finally let you in on what's fresh and ready for you this season!
